

Presentation:

Alutia is a consultancy and coaching firm founded in 2021 to support companies, public organizations, associations and individuals in France and worldwide.

Our mission is to support executives, managers and their teams in defining and achieving their goals and development their own potential. We aims also to unblock a team stuck in a difficult situation, with a view to improving group performance and cohesion. We will assist you on how to develop proactive behaviors in order to progress and the ability to work as part of a team and to help others develop.

Our vision: Accompanying those who wish to develop their own resources to successfully achieve their goals anywhere and at any time.

We can also provide consulting services in Human Resources development and transformation, team building, change management, project coaching, workshops related to personal and collective development.

Alutia relies on a large network of experienced and coaches, human resources and management experts working in a framework that combines confidentiality of discussions and respect for the ICF code of ethics.,

Alutia will do the necessary to adapt the demands of anyone with a disability.