

INTERCULTURAL COACHING:

With the increase of international cooperation, new acquisitions and mergers, companies are faced the challenge to manage diversity which today has become a key of performance. Intercultural coaching aims to develop skills to manage diversity, find consistency in the change (s) and make cultural differences an essential lever in order to achieve sustainable performance.

For your teams:

- Accept differences, be open-minded, listen and non-judgment,
- How to manage multicultural teams: Find synergies, capitalize on cultural wealth to make it a lever for lasting success,
- Consolidate corporate culture beyond each other's cultures in order to mobilize employees around a common culture and values.

For executives and managers, our approach aims to better identify:

- The importance of interculturality within your organizations,
- The integration of cultural codes and intercultural' management and performance,
- To better prepare your expatriation: To become aware of the intercultural dimension, codes in order to avoid / reduce the intercultural risks conflicts in your professional / personal life in the country of assignment.

For more information, Please contact us